

Group Discussion and Application

1. What evidence do we find in Scripture that God calls people to service? Give some examples.
2. How does a person today sense a call to a certain work?
3. What are the practical values of knowing you are called to a particular work?
4. How does a person's character change after coming to faith in Christ?
5. What are some of the character qualities that are especially important for Christian service?
6. What does love and commitment to God's people look like?
7. What are some of the sacrifices and costs that may be paid to identify oneself with God's people?
8. Should some past sins bar people from certain forms of Christian service?
9. Do you think Moses' act of slaying the Egyptian (v.12) was justifiable? Why or why not?

Personal Reflection and Response

1. To what work do you believe God has called you?
2. What character quality do you most need to develop in your Christian life? How can you develop this quality?
3. Begin to prayerfully consider the names of people God might be pleased to use as elders and deacons in our congregation.

Family Homework

1. Read Acts 7:20-29 and Hebrews 11:23-27. What do these passages teach us about the events of Ex. 2 that we would not know otherwise?
2. What did it cost Moses to identify with God's people? What does it cost you?

God Uses People for His Work

Exodus 2:11-25

Using Moses as an example of a man of faith used by God, what kind of people does God use to accomplish His work?

1 God uses people of _____.

2 God uses people of _____.

3 God uses people who _____.

4 God uses _____ people.