

Group Discussion and Application

1. How has your redemption affected your relationships and various aspects of your life?
2. Other than redemption, what motivates and controls a person's actions and relationships?
3. What can we do to be more mindful of our redemption?
4. Give some examples of how everyday activities can reflect the character of our Redeemer.
5. How does the life Jesus prescribes go beyond the law (Luke 6:30-36)?
6. Several rules in our text emphasize separation from the surrounding pagan culture (22:19; 23:19). In what ways are we to be separate from the world?
7. Read Ex. 23:1-3, 6-8. Paraphrase these verses in your own words. List and explain some of the principles/requirements for justice found in these verses.
8. Ex. 23:13 says, "Now concerning everything which I have said to you, be on your guard." In practical terms, what does it mean to "be on guard" and how do we do that?

Personal Reflection and Response

1. Have you personally experienced redemption in Christ?
2. What areas of your own life need to be influenced more fully by your redemption?
3. What specific steps do you need to take for redemption to have greater impact on your life?

Family Homework

1. Read Ex. 23:4-5. Put these verses in modern terms. Give some contemporary examples of the principles of these verses.
2. Read Ex. 23:14-17. What "celebrations" do we have today that remind us of our redemption?
3. Ex 22:21-27 talk about showing kindness to the disadvantaged. Design a project for your family to show care and concern for someone in need.

Redeemed Living

Exodus 22:16-23:19

Every area of life should be motivated and controlled by redemption.

Every area of life...

...should be motivated and controlled by redemption.